

Building the Australian Sharing Law Network

Friday 24 July, 9.30am to 12.30pm

A round table discussion aimed at building legal support for the sharing economy
Room 203, Law School Board Room, UNSW, Sydney (near Anzac Parade entrance)

The sharing economy offers innovative ways to reduce our resource consumption, strengthen community connections and build a vibrant, compassionate, sustainable economy.

This roundtable discussion has been created to invite lawyers, law students and other service providers, to join a growing movement of people who are working to strengthen the sharing economy. The roundtable will provide information about the Australian Sharing Law Network, the Australian Handbook for Sharing Law and Earth Friendly Governance, and create a space for participants to share information about their own activities and initiatives.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Lawyers, law students and others who are interested in working together to build services and support networks for local and regional scale sharing initiatives. Local scale sharing initiatives include community based not-for-profit organisations, social enterprises and other entities involved in any of the following activities: swapping, exchanging, collective purchasing, shared ownership, co-operatives, eco-villages, co-creation, recycling, upcycling, re-distribution, trading used goods, renting, borrowing, lending, subscription based models, peer-to-peer lending, micro financing, micro-entrepreneurship, social media, crowdfunding, crowdsourcing, open source, open data, user generated content ... and more!

FACILITATORS

Our workshop will be facilitated by Dr Michelle Maloney, Australian Earth Laws Alliance and Professor Bronwen Morgan, UNSW Law School.
