

Connecting to Place, Caring for Country

Afternoon Workshop

Thursday 12 March 2020, 2pm-5.30pm
1st Floor, Ship Inn, South Bank, Brisbane

Please join us for a fascinating workshop which will focus on how human relationships with the living world can form a foundation for broader societal change and governance stability. By bringing together Aboriginal philosophy and law, with Western critiques of the current legal, economic and political system, this workshop focuses on how ancient and emerging place-based approaches can offer an effective, practical, compassionate and successful future for Australia. The afternoon workshop includes presentations and discussions, to engage us all in the important work of reflecting on who we are, how we fit into the interconnected community of life, and the types of changes we can make in our individual, community and collective political lives, to build a stronger, healthier and more resilient society.

WORKSHOP PRESENTERS — The workshop is presented by the Australian Earth Laws Alliance (AELA) and newly created not-for-profit organisation "Future Dreaming Australia", and is led by Dr Mary Graham, Adjunct Associate Professor of Philosophy at the University of Queensland and Kombumerri person, and Dr Michelle Maloney, Co-Founder and National Convenor of the Australian Earth Laws Alliance (AELA).
